

THE INTEGRATED EMPLOYMENT
INSTITUTE PRESENTS:

JUNE 2020 TRAININGS

These trainings directly address skills & resources relevant to the current crisis, specifically related to the provision of career services and staff wellness.

TEAM BUILDING WHILE WORKING REMOTELY

6/3 at 10AM

Working collaboratively is a key element to providing effective career services. During this time of remote work and social distancing, team building may not be adequately addressed. It is even more important to continue to remain a cohesive team during this stressful and challenging time. This training will provide participants with tools and strategies to reinforce team cohesiveness.

Register: <http://tiny.cc/ieijun3>

COMPENSATORY STRATEGIES TO OVERCOME EXECUTIVE FUNCTIONING ISSUES IN EDUCATION AND EMPLOYMENT

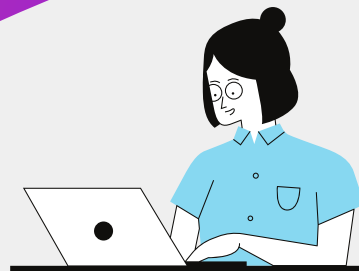

6/10 at 10AM

This workshop will provide an overview of common executive functioning issues (planning, reasoning, memory, attention control, inhibiting automatic responses) related to mental health conditions. Participants will develop an understanding of how to recognize and address them in order to increase success and satisfaction. Compensatory strategies to mitigate these issues will be explored as they relate to employment and education.

Register: <http://tiny.cc/ieijun10>

YOU MUST REGISTER WITH THE PROVIDED LINKS AHEAD OF TIME TO RECEIVE ACCESS TO THE TRAININGS.

WHAT MAKES A SUCCESSFUL ONLINE LEARNER? STRATEGIES FOR POST-SECONDARY STUDENTS PREPARING FOR REMOTE LEARNING

6/17 at 10AM

As more schools announce upcoming semesters will be conducted solely online, many students and providers working with them have questions about how to successfully take on the new online environment in which they find themselves. This webinar is designed for career service providers and post-secondary students looking to develop strategies for success in an online learning environment.

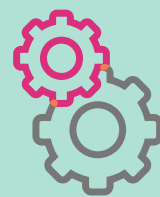

Register: <http://tiny.cc/ieijune17>

REMOTE STRATEGIES FOR ENGAGING CAREER SERVICE PARTICIPANTS

6/19 at 10AM

Uncertainty with career plans may be a new reality for many leading some to disengage from service. This webinar will describe practical, creative ways to support engagement and nurture connection while providing virtual or remote career services.

Register: <http://tiny.cc/ieijune19>

REMOTE STRATEGIES FOR JOB DEVELOPMENT

6/24 at 10AM

During this time of public health crisis, it is understandable that Employment Specialists may be feeling uncertain as to how to proceed with job development responsibilities and tasks. This webinar will focus on the challenges job developers are currently facing. We will address job development strategies that can be adjusted, modified, or created during this time of remote work, where there is little opportunity for community based job development.

Register: <http://tiny.cc/ieijune24>